CENTERS of EXCELLENCE

MII comprises more than 150 scientists working on pathogens, cancer, inflammation and autoimmunity to develop vaccines, novel diagnostics and innovative treatments to improve human health.

Our Drive:

- Mission-oriented basic biomedical research.
- To develop new and better strategies to prevent, detect & treat immunology-related diseases.
- To train young immunologists in Chile on translational research.
- To transfer science and technology from the university to the society.
- To disseminate immunology to the general public.

Our Recent Achievements:

- RSV vaccine undergoing clinical evaluation.
- Cell-based cancer immunotherapy trials.
- Strategic partnerships with biotech companies.
- WIPO Gold medal award.
